It is an action game in which you ride on a truck. You must deliver cargo, repair it and bypass roadblocks. There are trucks (islands) where cargo can be moved. They are divided into categories and levels. On the road, there are real dangers - obstacles can cause your truck to overturn, and the movement of pedestrians can also cause your truck to stop. You must deal with these dangers. The city has a rhythm. The pedestrians and vehicles must follow the rhythm of the city. The rhythm of the city affects your truck as well. If your truck pauses for more than a few seconds, or stops, when the city is moving faster, it will be thrown off the rails. If you pay attention to the traffic in the city, do not exceed the speed limit, do not run red lights, you will not become a risk. If you like the game you can leave your remark and recommendations about the game. The Kingdom of Magoria is at war and the kingdom is fighting for its survival. In an effort to obtain peace and preserve the realm, the King has decided to surrender the kingdom. This is a dire situation for the kingdom's citizens and their families, as they are now at the mercy of the cruel Garoth Empire. The King has warned of his exile in the Garoth Empire is a sentence of death. As the economy collapses and the people are starving, the citizens have fled to the colony of Sky Sanctuary, situated in the clouds. The Sage, a government official, has stopped all the trains and shut off the delivery of supplies to ensure that the colony survives and even thrives. But what was the last known destination for the fleeing citizens of Magoria? Can the colony of Sky Sanctuary withstand the increasing threats of the hostile Garoth Empire? If you think this announcement isn't coming from an official source, I'd like to tell you that I never have lied to my players. I really did take the news about The Sims 4 coming to Oculus as a surprise. As a player and developer in this community I wanted to see how the community would react. I knew it would be difficult since I had a favorite type of play. Of course, as I was posting this today I had to come back to this and realize there's rumors out there about it not being true. However, as someone who is a part of this community it was hard to take since I truly enjoyed the community and in game events that were themed around the Sims franchise and this news. As a PR professional, I'm not here to only announce big news. I'm here to remind you what's important to you as a player. Of course, we'll still do any type of announcements that we are well aware of but, I'm currently trying to find something that I believe is equally as important and good for my players. I will continue to communicate what is going on with The Sims 4 and I'm waiting to see if we are still going to be working on the free content and updates that have been promised. We'll see where this leads us. In the mean time, I would like to say thank you to the community and I really appreciate all the amazing feedback that I've received to date. In The Sims 4 I want to create a world that allows you to play as a Sim through as c9d1549cdd

Comments and Discussions I played it and I loved it. It reminded me alot of Worms. Only with a 3D tower defense setting. So I downloaded it and played it. It really felt awesome. But there were problems. - The game have to use a new "back" button. Unless you change the settings. - It have a long memory and I can't go forward properly. - Pressing F on keyboard to show the controll options it it use a fat buster. Which is hard to do from the fat buster. But these are just soft problems and not issues with the game. If you are in any of these problems it's not that much to fix. Jato keep it a little more exciting hehehe. But everything else will be good. And you know what? I will pay you 500 bucks and if you don't fix these problems I'll send you shit on your door. (of course in attached to the bill) I play BWG and the hint icon is yellow in the taskbar. I set it to green so I know it's up, then to avoid opening the window and reading the help text I click the X in the left top corner to close it, and next time I get into it it's green again, but I don't really know how to set the hint to yellow again permanently.
